

Returnerguys - final 2009 stats

by Mike Herman, Exclusive to Footballguys.com

Fantasy points scoring: 6 points per TD, 1 point per 20 punt return yards, & 1 point per 40 kickoff return yards
 Player Key: bold = current starter, red = injured, strikethrough = suspended or no longer on the team

The Top Five Fantasy Returners

1	Josh Cribbs, Cle - Cribbs produced his fourth straight top ten finish and was the runaway leader for the top spot. He handled all but one of the teams punt returns, the majority of the kickoff returns, and scored four times. Several years ago when Devin Hester was all the rage, some astute observers suggested that Cribbs was actually the better returner.
2	Danny Amendola, STL - casual football fans may still not be overly familiar with Amendola, but those that use fantasy returners are. His kickoff return total yardage was the most in the league, and he ranked in the top ten in punt return average and yardage.
3	Domenik Hixon, NYG - Hixon finished third despite missing two games. He supplemented his sixth ranked kickoff return yardage with a healthy punt return average and a score.
4	Stefan Logan, Pit - after searching for many years, the Steelers finally found a returner this year. Logan was kept busy and produced the third most return yards in the league.
5	Darren Sproles, SD - Sproles produced his third straight top ten finish. He handled every punt return and scored once along the way. His kickoff return total yardage ranked fourth in the NFL.
